

Casino Players Guide

Roulette Wheel & Table layout uses numbers (0-36)

Place your stake (chips) on the table on the number/s you think will win.

The wheel is spun and the ball sent round the wheel in the opposite direction.

Once the ball has slowed down it will find its way into the numbered tray on the wheel.

This is the winning number!

Important Rules

Winning bets receive winnings + original stake.

If the roulette ball lands on 0, all bets lose except those placed on or associated to the number. All stakes in 'Even Bet' categories are returned.

BLACK JACK

You are staking your chances of drawing cards that total more than the dealer's without exceeding 21. If you do this, you receive an Even money payout and retain your original stake, except when...

1. A score of 21 with 2 cards ("Natural" or "Black") payout = 3 to 2
2. Dealer gets Black Jack, all stakes taken except players with the same score. They retain their original stake but do not get paid out.
3. A tie scores (Dealer & any player) the original stake is retained.

HOW TO PLAY

PLACE your stake inside the box in front of you on the table

THE DEALER will deal first card face up to each player, then to himself

A SECOND CARD is then dealt to each player

IF YOU ARE HAPPY with the total of your 2 cards then you can 'stand'

PLAYERS can draw cards to better there hand, be careful you may go bust

FINALLY the dealer deals his second card. If his hand is 16 or less he must draw another card. If his score is 17 or more, he must stand and pay out those with a higher score up to & including 21...

BLACK JACK continued...

CARDS USE FACE VALUE, PICTURE CARDS COUNT AS 10, ACE NOMINATED 1 OR 11

If your two cards total 9, 10 or 11 you can double your stake and draw 1 more card. Only do this when the dealer's card is 7 or less

Pairs of cards (except 4, 5 & 10) may split & receive 2 more cards.

Only do this if the Dealers card is 7 or less (Black Jack scored on split hand counts as 21)

Casino Stud Poker

Opening bets are placed in the 'ante' boxes. Each player + dealer are then dealt 5 cards face down, the dealer's 5th card is dealt face up.

If you have a hand, place your cards face down in the 'raise' box with your bet which must be DOUBLE your 'ante' bet. If you're not happy with your hand, throw in your cards and lose your 'ante' bet.

The dealer will then open his hand & players beating him will be paid out as shown. If the dealer has no hand he will payout only 'ante' bets & 'raise' bets will stand.
